

MOVING MAGNET TYPE PLANAR MOTOR CONTROL

Abstract

5 A control system for a moving magnet type planar motor is disclosed that permits positioning with three degrees of freedom. Motor force ripple compensation is achievable with the control system, and cross coupling between translation forces and torque is substantially decreased.

10

15

20

25

30

35